FOREWORD

East Rochester High School has soared this year on the wings of its BOMBER to new heights of scholastic, athletic, musical, and individual achievements. The staff of the 1965 Gagasboan invites you to join them as they circle above ERHS and survey the ground level activity from the BOMBER'S point of view.

*Bert,
How will we ever get along without
Mrs. G.? This year has really wizzed by and I'm still not sure what I've accomplished. But I do know that you have added a great deal to this year. I wish you the best of luck in the future.
Yours (Sue)
M. J. M.
V.B.*

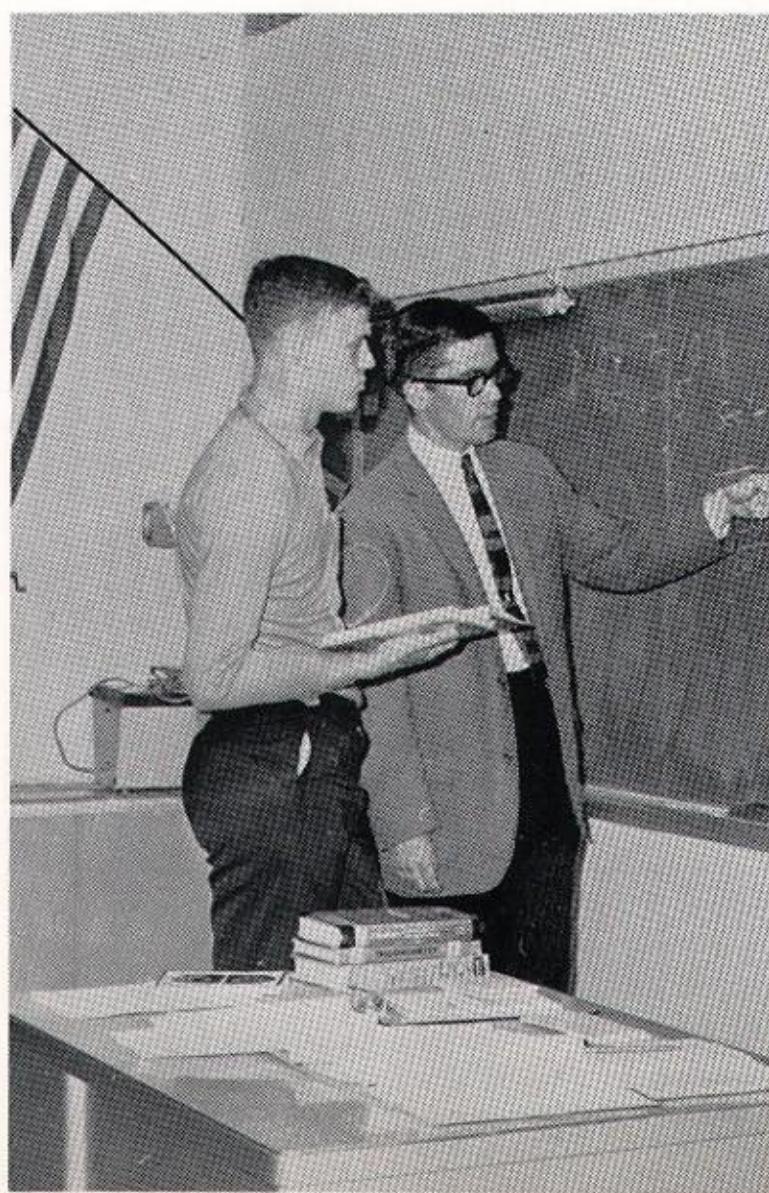

As the wheels are retracted and our BOMBER rises above the runway, we turn in our seats to catch a quick glimpse of the life in East Rochester High School. From above we hear the bell ringing out the news that another day has begun. Oh, the agony of that gym class at the break of dawn! Some lucky students start the day with a sectional rehearsal. Oh, please . . . not H_2S so early in the morning. And then, of course, there are tests to be written, letters to be typed, and pictures to be sketched.

SCHOOL LIFE

But as we gaze back, we see that school life is much more than scholastic endeavors. School life is making friends . . . receiving individual guidance . . . the sharing of a Veterans' Day Assembly so carefully planned by fellow students . . . the bedlam of the cafeteria where teachers lose their wits and students lose their euchre games. And perhaps equally important is observed tradition and expressed loyalty . . . "High School, dear old High School, we will ever loyal be . . ."

Miss Pauline Fritz

DEDICATION

Not only is there an art in knowing a thing, but also a certain art in teaching it.

Nam non solum scire aliquid artis est, sed quaedam ars etiam docendi.

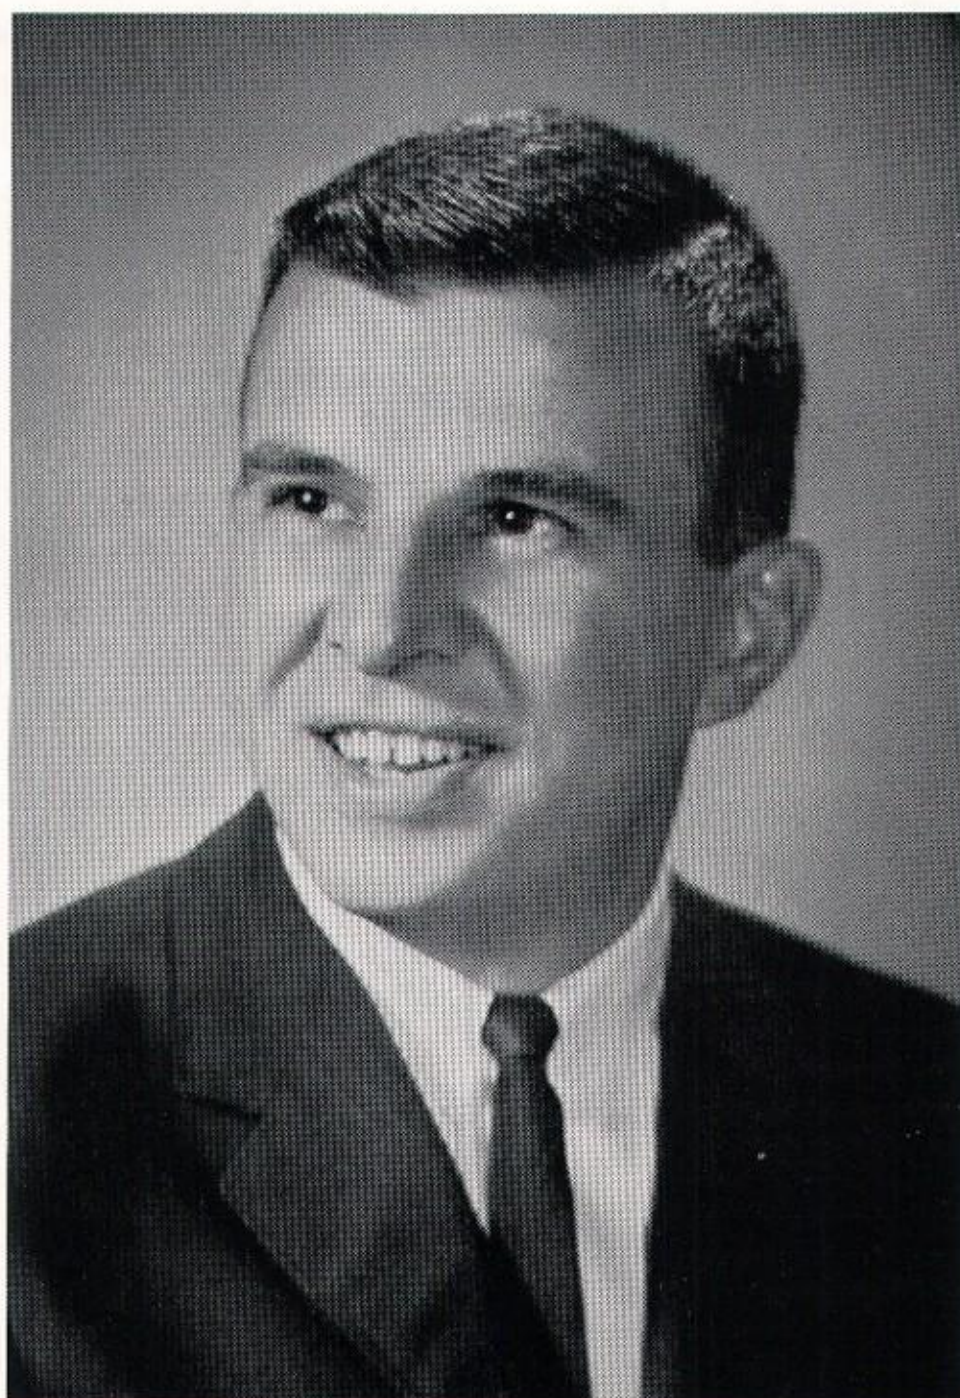

Cicero

Whenever kindness, sincerity, and fine exhaustible knowledge are mentioned, E.R.H.S. graduates will always remember you, Miss Fritz. Innumerable students have received from you high ideals as well as an indispensable knowledge of Latin. Now we give to you our warmest wishes for future happiness as you leave the faculty of East Rochester High School.

RECOGNITION

In our final moments at East Rochester High School we, the Class of 1965, reflect on the years that we have spent under your guidance. We entered high school as a disorderly array of freshmen. You gave to us the leadership which has molded the class into a successful unit. For your record of service and dedication, Mr. McLane, the Class of 1965 honors you.

Mr. Richard McLane

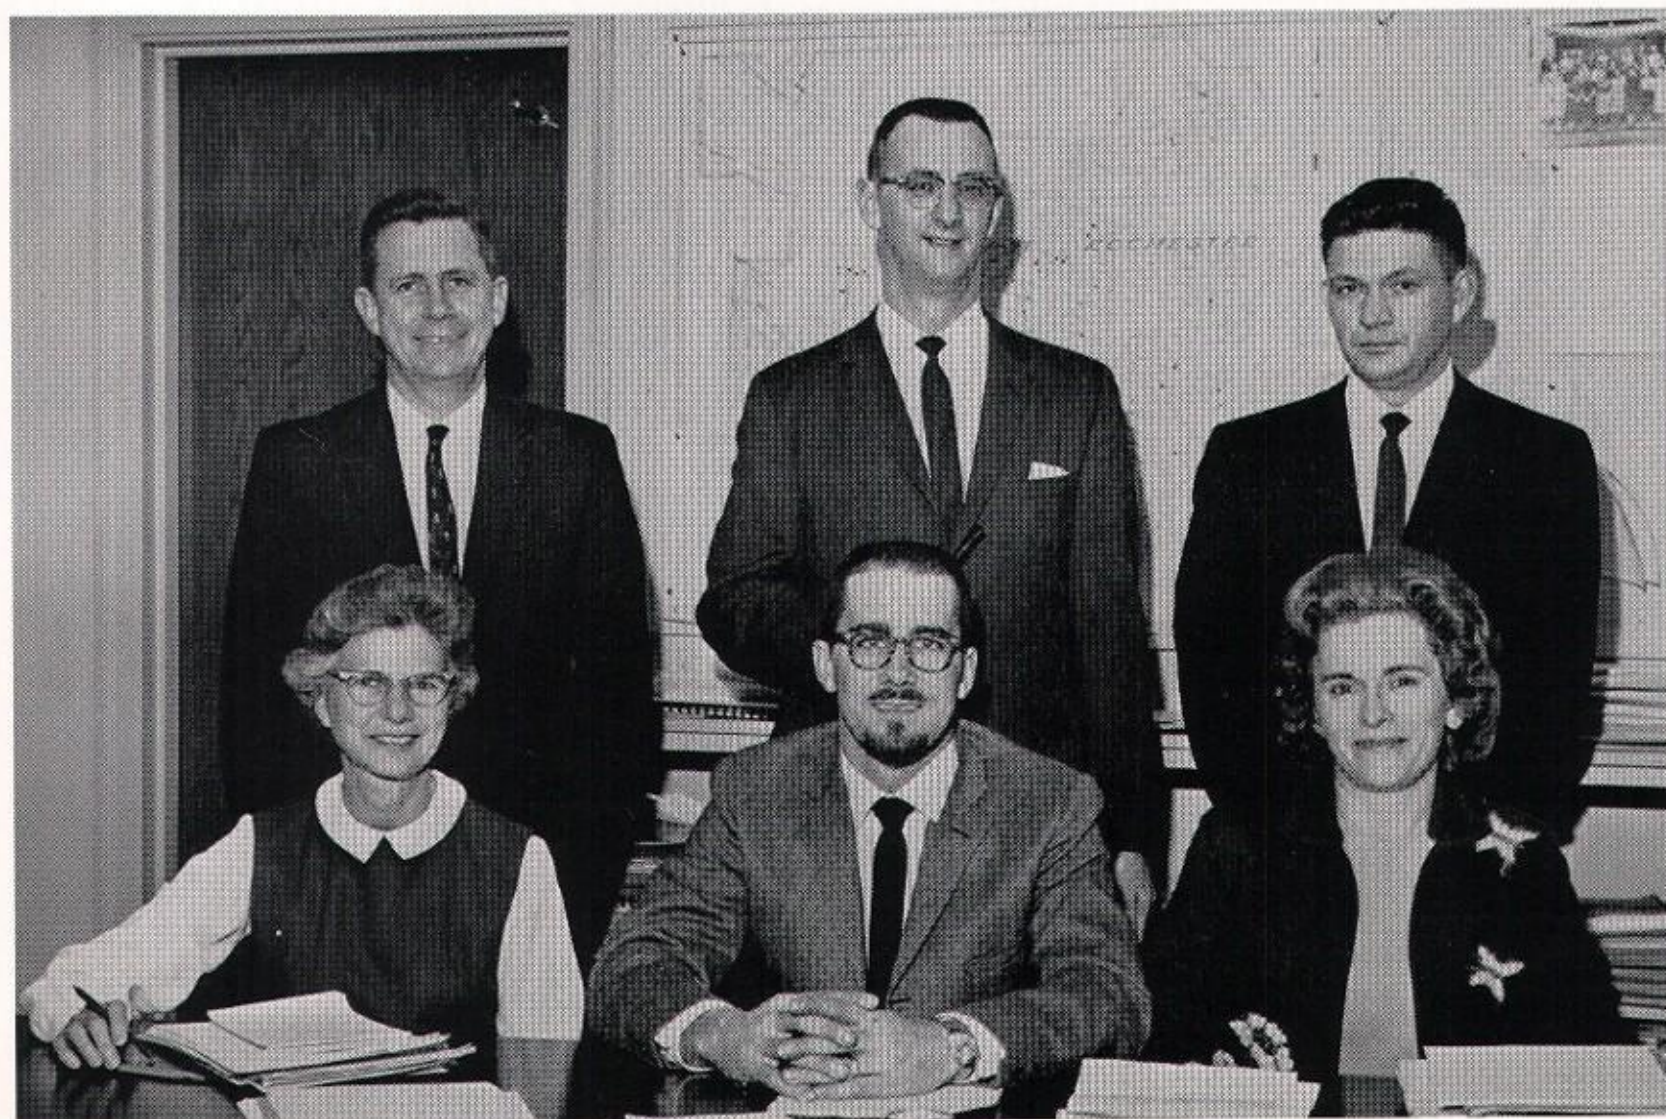

LEWIS C. OBOURN, Superintendent of Schools

The Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Lewis C. Obourn, and the Board of Education are the supporting structure of the East Rochester School System. Although students frequently are not aware of these people, the BOMBER can confirm the fact that Mr. Obourn and the members of the school board are constantly at work co-ordinating the schools and the entire system with the community. For further evidence of their successful efforts, examine all that is taking place in this high school!

ADMINISTRATION

BOARD OF EDUCATION

SEATED: Mrs. Smith, Mr. Harloff, Mrs. Doremus. STANDING: Mr. Shalvoy, Mr. Spring, Mr. Kopp.

Behind every successful organization there is an accomplished leader. Behind the efficiency of East Rochester High School is its principal, Dr. Frank O'Donnell. Under his watchful eye, many students have received fine educations and participated in a well-co-ordinated schedule of school life. One of Mr. O'Donnell's chief concerns is the maintenance of the high standards and praiseworthy tradition which the ER BOMBER has always symbolized.

FRANK J. O'DONNELL, Principal

PRINCIPAL

Best wishes for success! Mrs. Crowley

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Mr. Daniel Crowley, Mrs. Frances Greenberger, Mr. Nicholas Nacarella, Mrs. Sylvia Barrett, Chairman; Mr. Edward Fraser; Absent, Miss Lina Brownell.

FACULTY

Throughout the life of every student, communication with the world around him will determine, in part, the success of his life. High school English courses not only help to make this communication effective but also illustrate how men of the past have expressed themselves.

From the time each student enters high school, the guidance department helps him to plan his curriculum, to select a college, or to choose a course for his future life.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Miss Neva Jackling, Mr. John Baynes.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Sheila Jacobstein, Miss Laura Cashion, Chairman; Mr. Daniel Topolski, Miss Mary Jane Kunzog, Mrs. Margaret Whitbourne.

East Rochester High School offers a wide variety of science courses which open new doors for many students.

*To Bert...
It has been a pleasure...
best wishes,

perhaps, a message
you'll sign

To Bert best wishes - I'll miss you as a part of a "fabulous" class Fayuna Bentley

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

Mr. Leonard Schieffelin, Miss Anne Marie Hery, Mr. Richard McLane, Miss Fayuna Bentley, Chairman; Mr. John Stivers; Absent, Miss Katherine Kubala.

An understanding of the past and the present helps to prepare students for their future role as adult citizens.

The world has seemingly become so small that the ability to communicate with other people in their language is more important than ever before. The study of Latin gives a valuable understanding of the mechanics of language while the study of French makes communication possible in the modern world.

FACULTY

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Miss Pauline Fritz, Mrs. Patricia Dumont, Mrs. Kathryn Bieber, Chairman.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

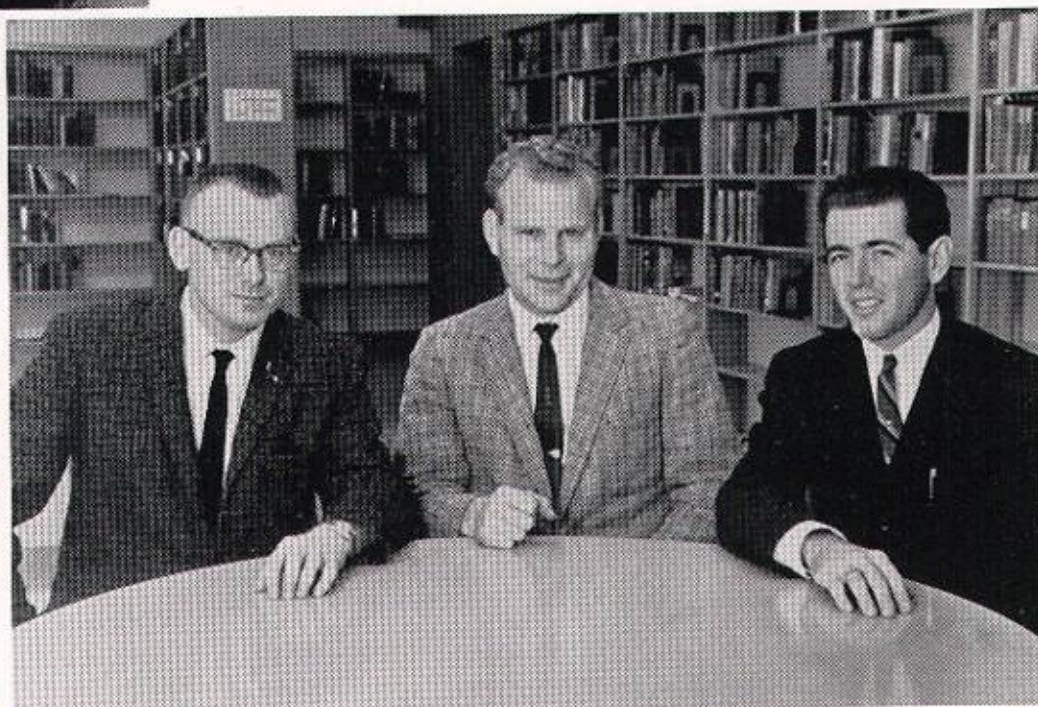

Mr. John Russell, Mrs. Helen Redman, Chairman; Miss Carolyn Neidig, Mr. Warren Knapp.

Basic math courses help to prepare some students for the management of their homes. For others, higher mathematics may be the key to a future career in an ever-changing world.

BUSINESS
Mrs. Eileen Ford, Miss Bertha Bourne, Chairman; Mr. Samuel Brody, Mrs. Orva Sprague.

Now the Class of '65 is history.

Once our BOMBER has leveled off, we settle back with our binoculars. Immediately we notice an outstanding group in the student body. Possibly the fact that the group is the largest class ever to be enrolled in East Rochester High School makes it so noticeable. The class's high percentage of scholars, athletes, and otherwise successful individuals contributes to making this class so conspicuous. As we survey the situation, we see the classmates working in close harmony making all their projects, ranging from the candy sale to the magazine campaign and from the Frosh Frolic to the Junior Prom, a grand success. Soon these seniors will be leaving their Alma Mater on one-hundred and ninety-three different paths of life. To them East Rochester High School wishes the best that life may bring.

HONOR STUDENTS

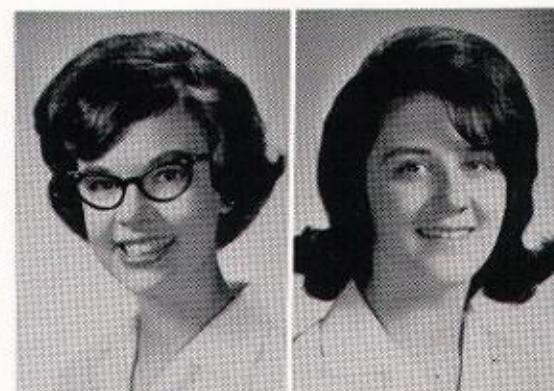

The Class of 1965 is to be congratulated on the high scholastic achievement of so many seniors.

The valedictorian, Marsha Bieber, with an average of 97.65%, has thus achieved the highest four-year average ever to be attained at E.R.H.S. Mary Clark, the salutatorian, has attained the unusually high average of 95.05%. These students through outstanding effort have reached a peak of scholastic accomplishment.

The ten students graduating magna cum laude with averages of 90% or higher also help to set a new record of scholarship in our school.

Those twenty-nine students who have completed four years of study with averages between 85% and 90% are also to be commended for their cum laude ranking.

These honor students, in addition to being outstanding scholars, have proved themselves to be well-rounded, active citizens of our school.

CLASS HISTORY

"... It must be our fate to have sportsmen, scholars, teamwork, and willingness. Yes, we've sure got the class..." And as we look back on four years of high school, we can see that the Fates have fulfilled the prophecy of our class song.

In the fall of 1961 the largest group of freshmen ever to enter E.R.H.S. converged upon the auditorium doors. Little did the high school realize what a legend of success in scholarship and athletics we were destined to write.

Immediately our able advisor, Mr. Richard McLane, pulled together the loose, green ends. We tried our new wings in a candy sale and discovered that they were quite trustworthy—they only needed a little practice. Our Frosh Frolic was also a great success. There were, of course, the many new and interesting activities of high school. We soon found ourselves enthusiastically supporting numerous organizations. During this first year, we had already begun to write a page in scholastic history at E.R.H.S. by initiating the advanced math program. On Moving Up Day we were forced to bow to the Class of 1964, but this defeat was certainly not to be repeated.

We lived out the following year as "gay, young sophomores," enjoying every minute of the day. Our prize-winning class song paraphrased the new peak we had reached by the end of our junior year: "Junior Class of '65 is way beyond compare. We've outdone the rest—really think we're best. Count up the many things we've done you'll find they spell success. J-U-N-I-O-R-S..." Who will ever forget the twelve-hour day we put into "Orientale", our prom—a terrific finale for the year!

The new school year brought to the "grand, old seniors" conflict of emotions—the joy of seniority, the anticipation involved in making plans for the future, and the sorrow in knowing that we were soon to leave the life we had lived for four years.

Now we have the memory of good times and friends to take with us as the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" fade into the distance. We also shall carry with us up that aisle an education which will be the foundation of our future lives.

And so, Seniors, you have finally reached the end of your high school days. As you leave these halls for the last time, think what these past four years have meant to you. You will always remember them as the most wonderful and carefree times you have spent. Friendships that will never cease have been formed, and knowledge that will never be forgotten has been gained. High school has not only been profitable scholastically; the value of sportsmanship and hard work learned in athletics, the citizenship obtained by participating in clubs, and the school spirit that has become a part of everyone are all qualities that will influence you all through your lives.

The Class of 1965 has left its mark on East Rochester High School in its tangible achievements. What is more important, however, is that the qualities that have been instilled in each person should bring even greater honor to you and your school.

Always remember, Seniors, that you are products of East Rochester High School. Of this fact you should be justifiably proud. Whatever your future fields of endeavor may be, remember that your actions will reflect the total education imparted to you by your Alma Mater.

To the victors belong the spoils.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CLASS OF '65

The spade is passed to the greatest class alive—ER's Class of '65.

Bunny, you're loafing.

Vip and hostess, Lynn Finkill

After World War II the American Field Service, a volunteer ambulance corps during both world wars, began to bring European high school students to the United States for a year of study. It has been the hope of this organization that these teenagers with their keen understanding would end the possibility of war in their lifetime. So successful was this project that the AFS has extended its program to American students. Now thirty nations open their doors to hundreds of American teenagers each summer. In East Rochester an enthusiastic committee of school representatives and community residents supervise this exchange program under the auspices of the AFS and ATAD, the Association for TeenAge Diplomats.

A MESSAGE FROM "VIP"

June, 1965

Kjaere alle sammen,

Now a year has gone, and it is time for me to say good-bye. The time has run by much too fast, but I want to tell you that you have made it the year of my life. I will never forget the friendliness and warmth with which you have met me from the very first day, your smiles and laughter that always made me happy, and your willingness to help me whenever I was confused. This has been a wonderful year with a lot of fun, a lot of work, and a lot of experiences. I have learned so much about America and Americans, even though I never quite lost my accent, and I hope you know a little more about the Norwegians, too (that we are not Swedes e.g.). During my stay here, there have, of course, been things that both shocked and surprised me, but the way you treated me always gave me a feeling of home and belonging. You are all so easy to get along with, and I never had any trouble adjusting.

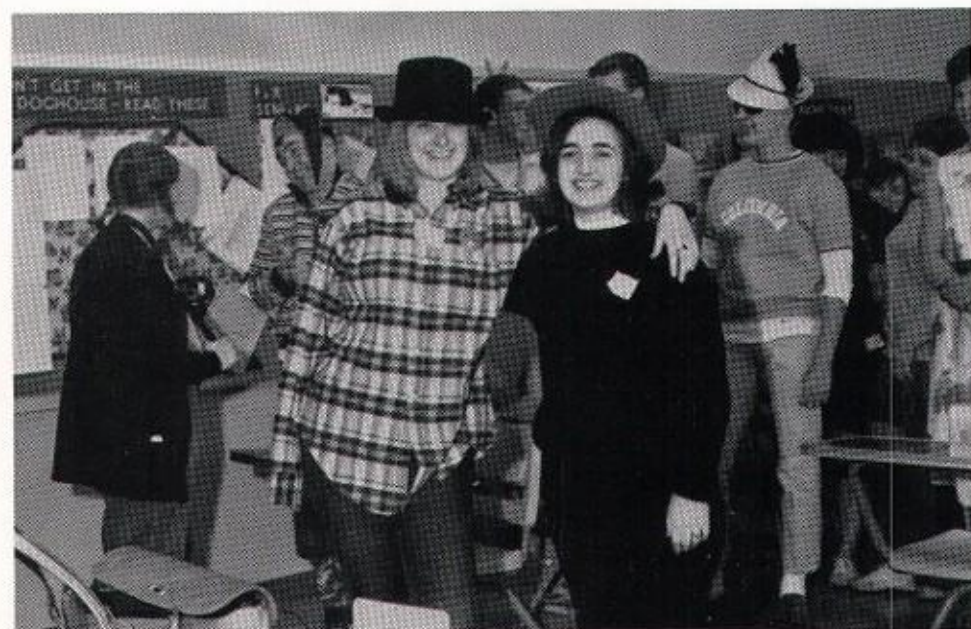

It is hard for me to take farewell with the family that has been mine for a year, the students and the teachers, but I hope I won't lose any friends by going back. It is also my wish to see you again either here or in my home in Norway.

I wish you Seniors the very, very best of luck in work or college and the rest of you many happy years at E.R.H.S.

May God be with you.

Love to all,

STUDENTS

During the summer of 1964 Mary Clark visited the Pokki family in Hameenlinna, Finland, where she learned a great deal about Finnish people and their culture. This year East Rochester has had the double pleasure of hosting two "AFSers." "Vip" has come to the Finkill home from Oslo, Norway. "Peppy," who is living with the Malone family, comes from the island of Corfu, Greece. None will ever forget "Vip's" vitality or "Peppy's" sharp wit. We wish them happiness as they depart for their native lands and extend a warm invitation for another visit.

Peppy and hostess, Janice Malone

A MESSAGE FROM "PEPPY"

June, 1965

Dear Friends,

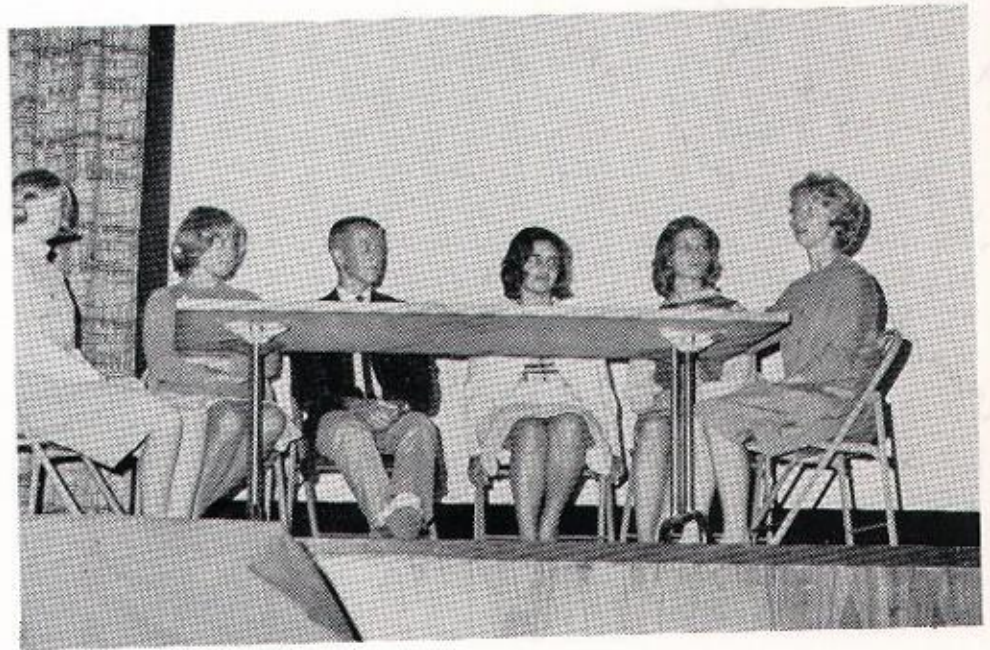

School is almost over now. June came—my last month in E.R.H.S. I am going back home very soon, leaving your high school that was my school for a year—the happiest year of my life. I would not exaggerate if I say that you made me feel at home all this time I was here, so much that I almost do not want to leave you now.

I will never forget my first days in your school. I was a stranger; you did not know what kind of person I was; you did not hesitate, however, to open your arms to me. That was so great for me at that time; you gave me the warm friendship I needed, being alone in a foreign country.

With your nice behavior, you gained a friend. I will never forget you, all my good friends, who have really been able to replace my family this year.

With these feeling I leave E.R.H.S. I hope I will be able to come again and meet all you following your way in life. Even if I never come back again, be sure I will always remember you with love. God bless you.

Just pretend it's Lynn's head.

Our group had 21% more cavities.

Spallsy, watch the game.

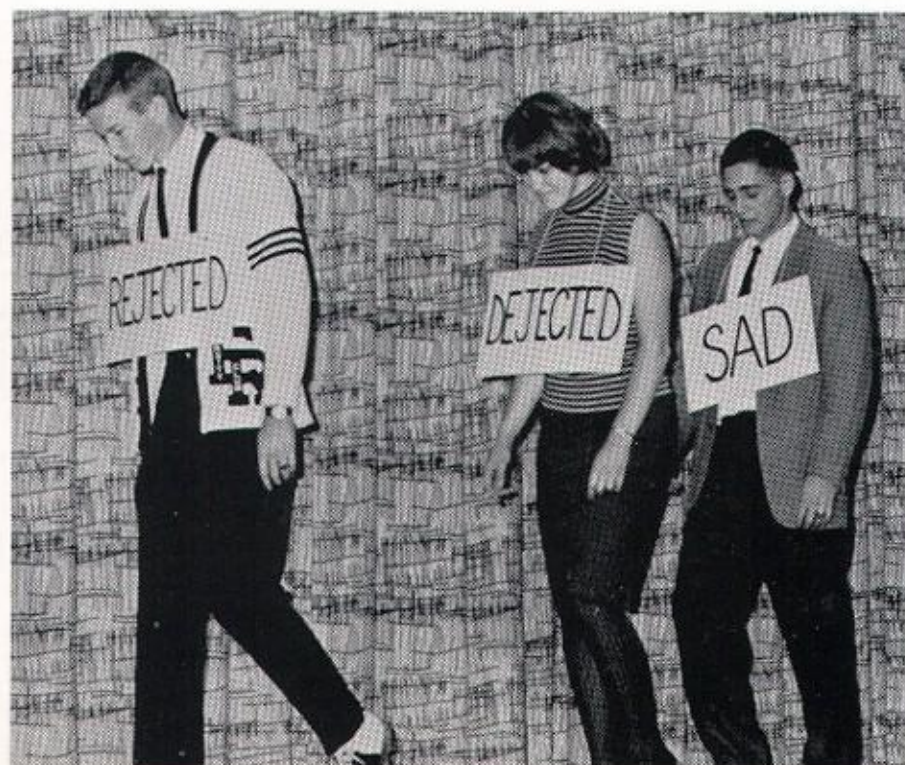

No wonder he's enjoying it less!

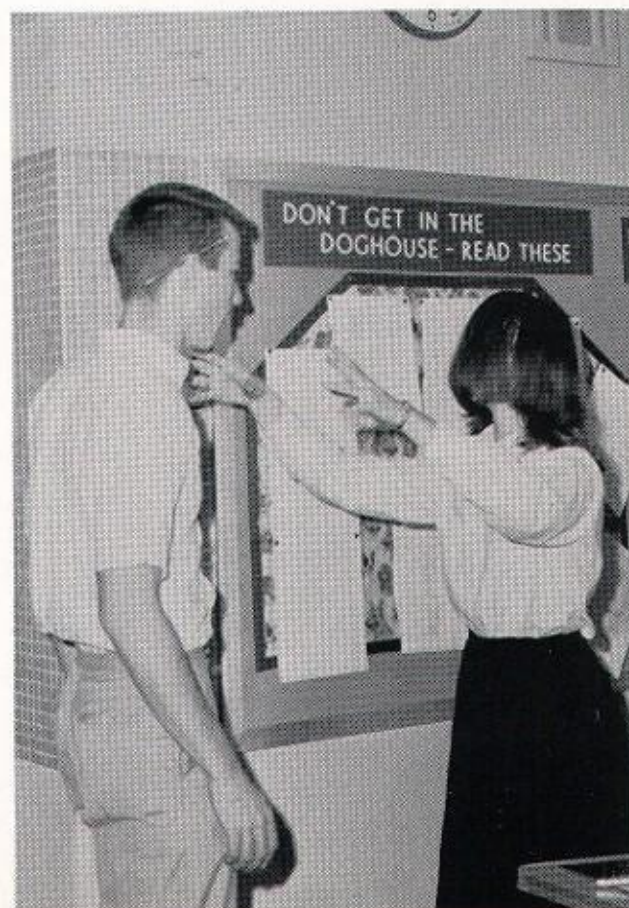

Come on, give us that "Squash" look.

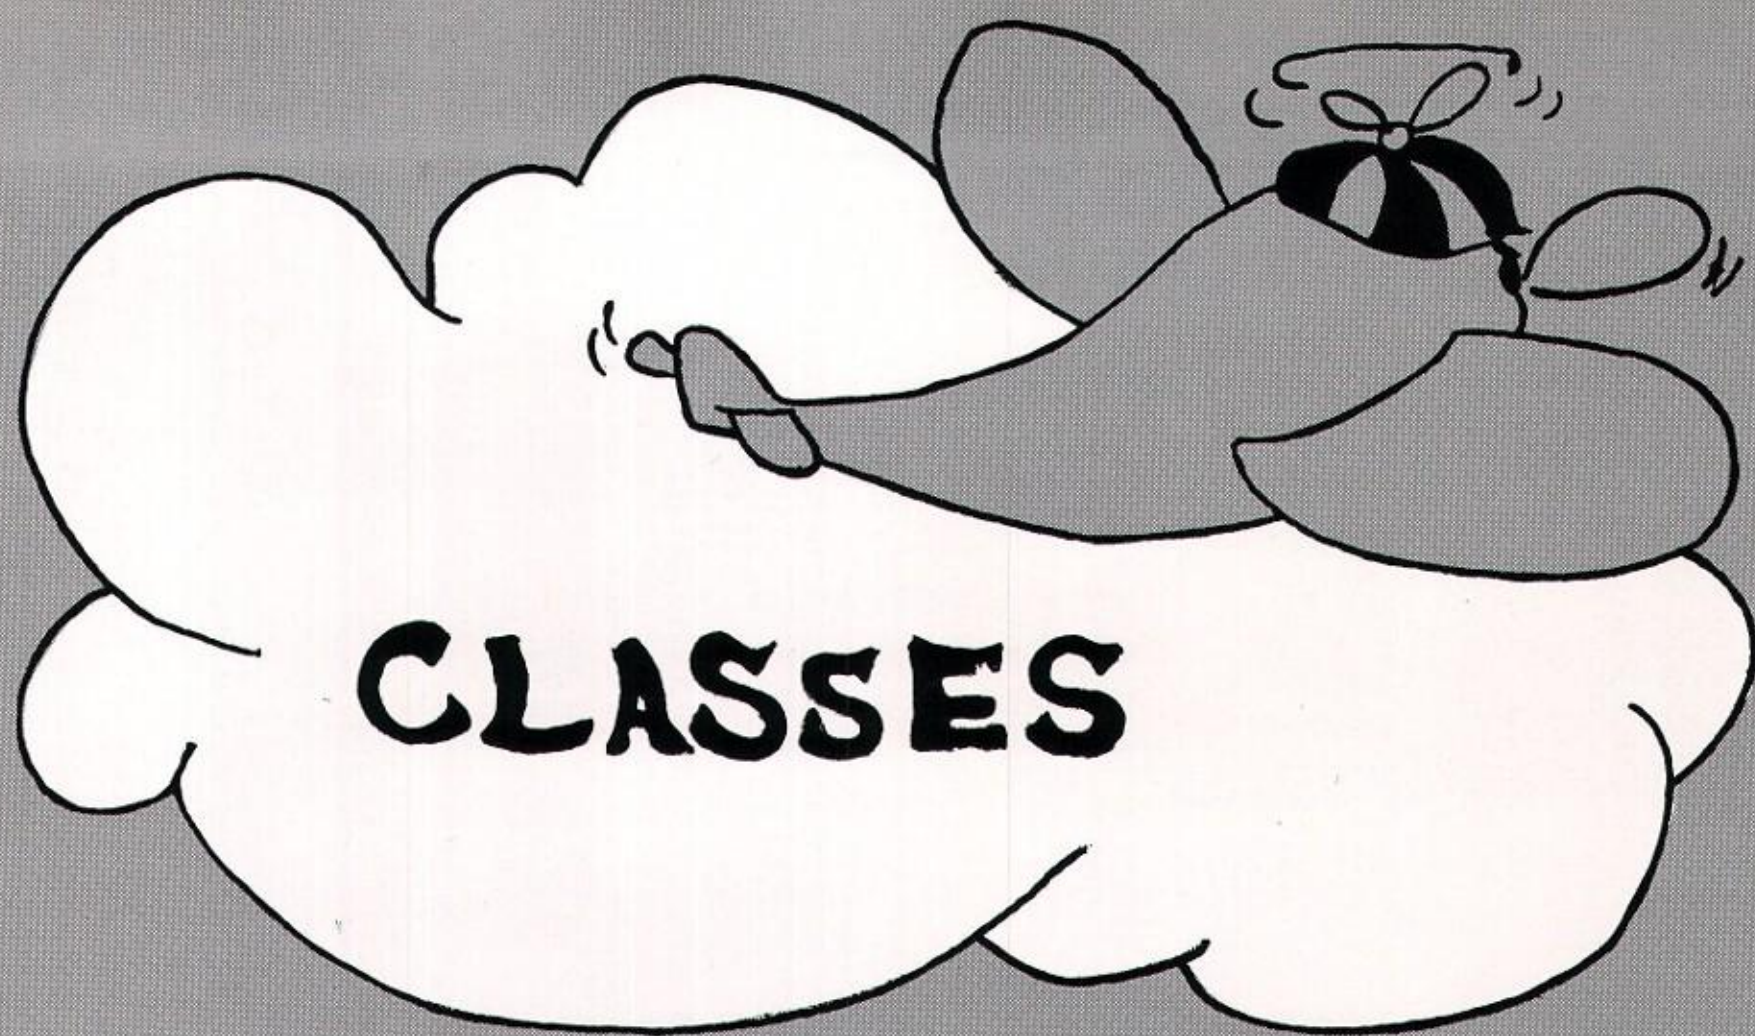

Short skirts are nothing new.

Ya wanta bet!?!

She just got out! How come?

From our vantage point, we also see three other groups, each with its own distinguishing marks of accomplishment. Yet we notice that there are still questions to be answered concerning these classes. How many will complete high school and will know that they have attained a high scholastic goal? Will they continue to uphold the high standards and traditions of their Alma Mater? Will they produce championship teams? How well will they utilize the many opportunities for extracurricular fun and activity? What courses will they follow after they shed their academic caps and gowns?

Our ER BOMBER, however, soars securely over these three classes. He has seen their achievements of the past and has no fear for their future!

 THEM

The "jolly juniors" have successfully completed another year under the watchful guidance of Miss Hery. The Scholastic Aptitude Tests have reminded them that plans for the future must be made. Some juniors who have proven to be excellent students have been rewarded by acceptance into the National Honor Society. Class projects have risen to new heights as the 1965 Prom provided an enchanting evening for many couples. Outstanding athletes have helped to carry our teams to victory. The Gagashoan staff wishes them much success as they take their places in the new Senior Class of East Rochester High School.

The "gay, young sophomores" have gained a deeper understanding of what high school may hold in store for them. Some have discovered that new study habits and more concentrated effort will be needed for the successful completion of high school. Others have found the time to participate in new school life to which they are becoming accustomed. Assisted by their advisor, Mr. Schieffelin, they are learning what success as a class can mean. The Soph Hop illustrates such co-operation. The 1965 Gagashoan staff joins in congratulating them for a year well completed and in encouraging them to uphold the high standards of their predecessors.

Now the freshmen eagerly await the coming years when they may test their wings as leaders and participants in the school life of ERHS. To them the 1965 Gagashoan staff extends its wishes for a successful high school career.

And now we must "catch-up" on a few things.

The Juniors do need some guidance.

Stand back—there's enough for everyone.

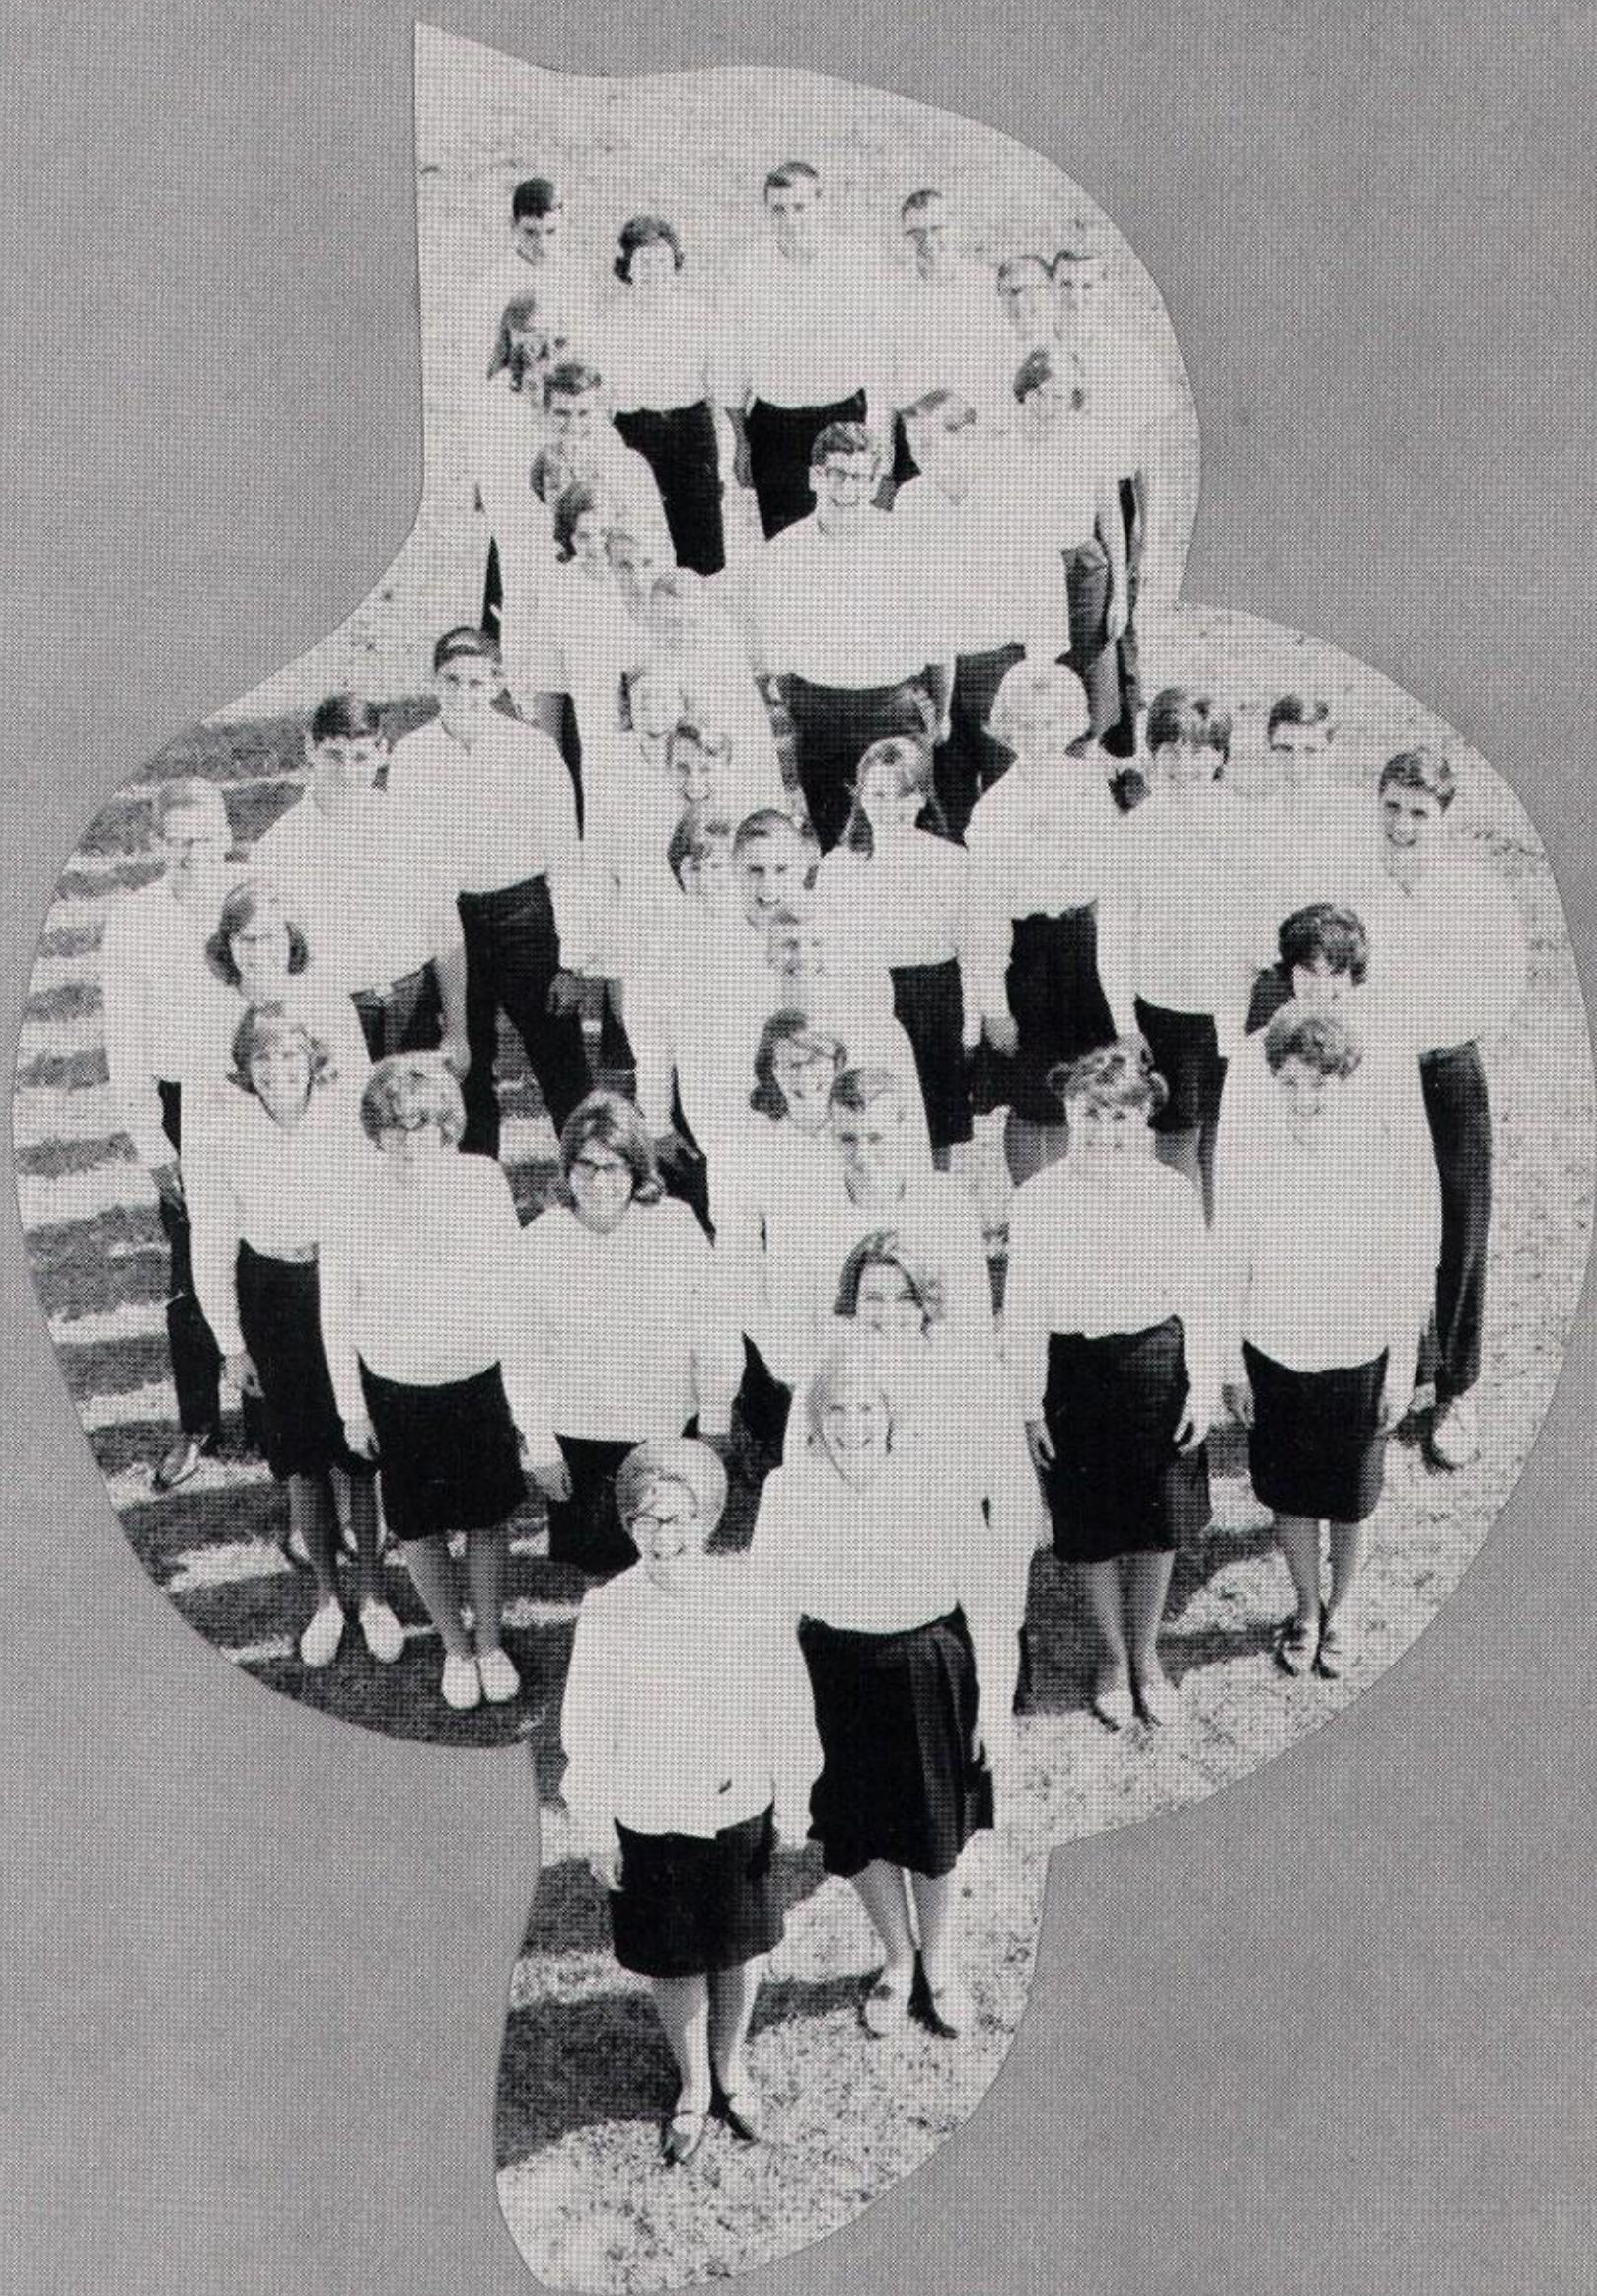

This is no time to quit.
It's easier if you smile.

As we again circle the building, we begin to notice a great deal of activity outside the classroom. Our pilot explains to us that this hustle and bustle is the activity of the many organizations. So wide-spread is this activity that we must take another spin above the school. Music emanates from one end of the school as the band and choir rehearse for a concert. The stage crew is busy preparing the backdrop for the program. In the other end of the building, club officers and advisors plan the activities that will give the students opportunities to develop as individuals while enjoying the company of their classmates.

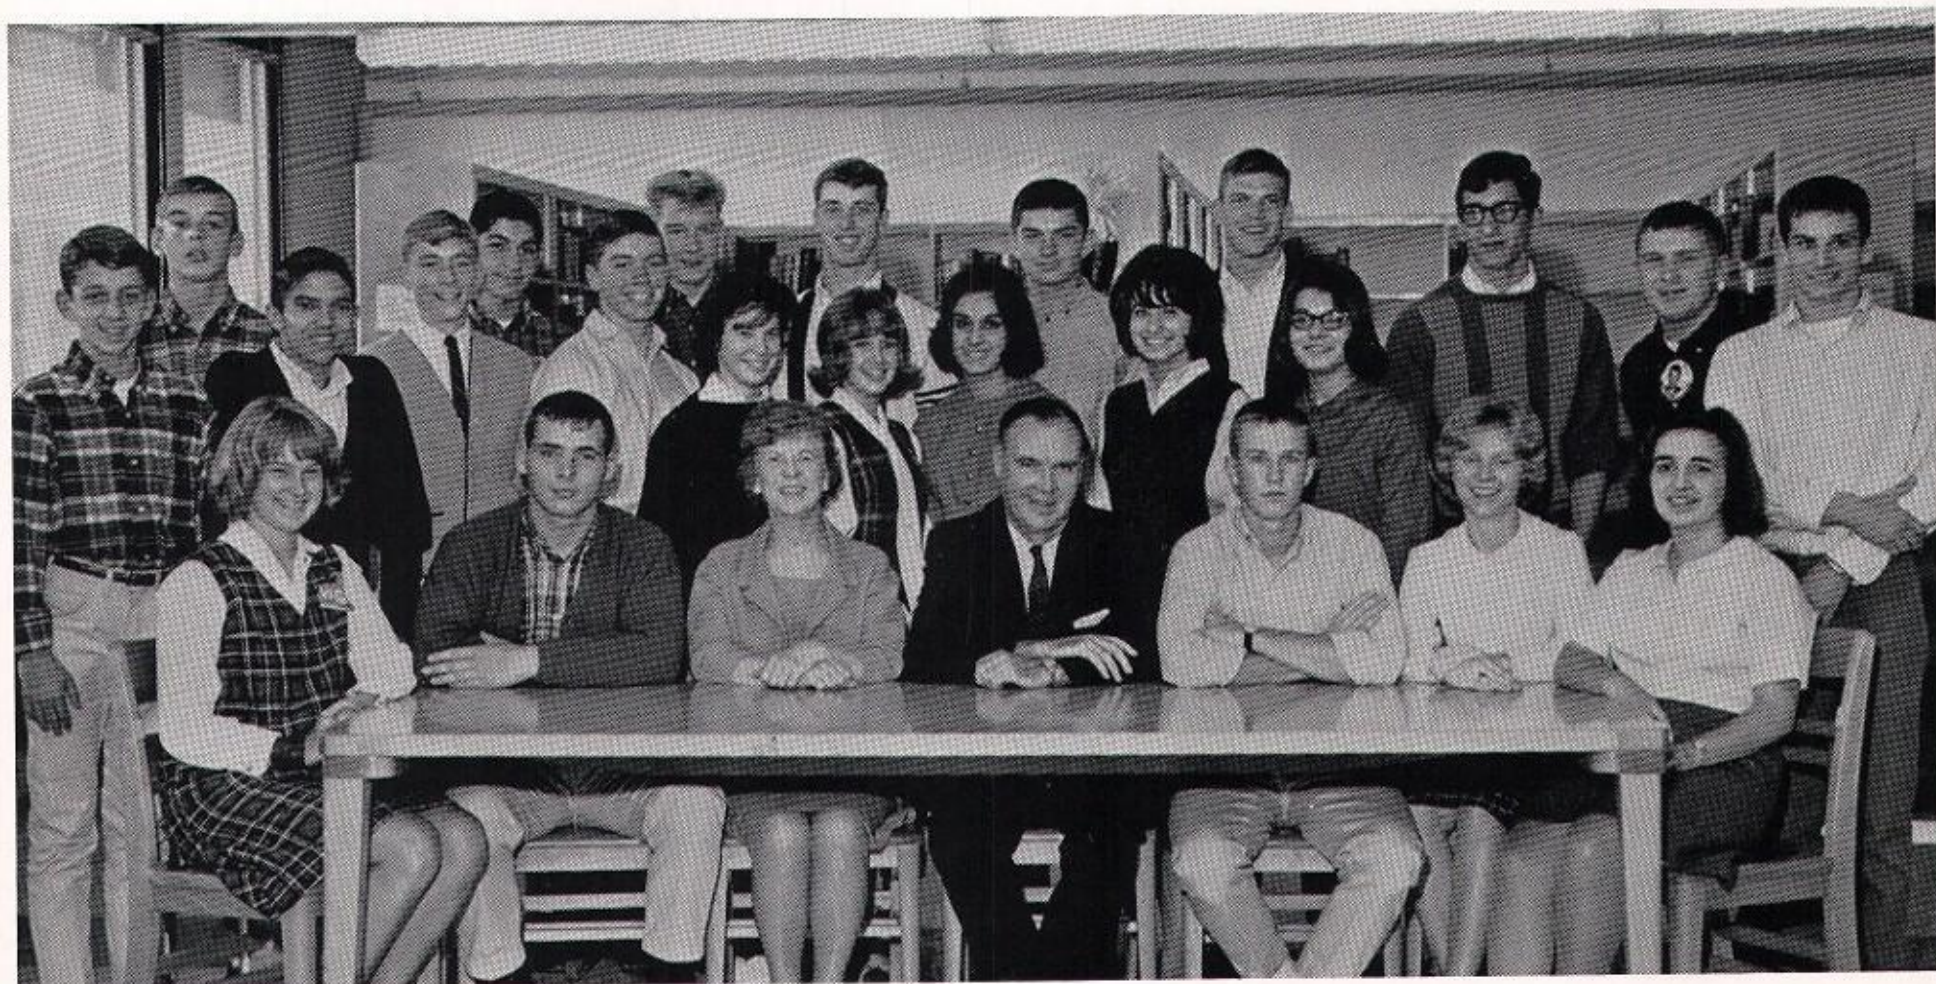

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

BOTTOM ROW: Mr. O'Donnell, Advisor; Clark, Secretary; Miss Bentley, Advisor. SECOND ROW: Major, President; Lanning, Treasurer; Vergo, Vice-President.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The East Rochester High School Student Council adds to the curriculum the important element of experience in a democratic government. In September each member of the student body has the opportunity to cast a ballot for a student representative of his homeroom. Under the leadership of a student-elected president and vice president, these representatives take action on proposals of their classmates, sell tickets for athletic events, upon request arrange bus transportation for such events, and aid the faculty in selecting qualified seniors for the Student Association Trophy. In recent years the organization has joined ATAD in sponsoring a Diplomat Dance. Each year the council revises standards for awards and improves methods of functioning in order to keep in step with the progress and growth of the school. The use of the Student Activity room is just one of the steps recently taken.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The members of the National Honor Society have been chosen for their high standards of scholarship, citizenship, leadership and school spirit. A maximum of fifteen percent of a senior class is eligible for membership; ten percent of these may be tapped during the junior year. This induction takes place during fall and spring assemblies at which the society members explain the organization's ideals to the student body. The National Honor Society members may be qualified for further honors and awards on the national level.

GAGASHOAN STAFF

In the spring of each year the junior members of the Gagashoan staff choose the sophomores who will work as apprentices the following year.

Throughout the summer and the school year the senior staff members are hard at work planning and preparing a yearbook which they hope will be the best ever.

In the fall the co-editors and advisors are instructed at a publishing house workshop on the successful production of a yearbook. Invariably every staff runs into complications, confusion, and last minute rushing. All these factors add to the fun and value of the experience gained in serving on the staff.

AMBASSADOR STAFF

Students in the journalism class are the members of the Ambassador staff. This class is an elective course for those students qualified in English. Miss Hery begins the year with basic instruction in journalism. Within a few weeks the students are ready to publish their first issue of the Ambassador, a page in the East Rochester Herald, which homeroom representatives sell for "just one thin dime." After several editions of the paper has been prepared, Miss Hery chooses the permanent set of editors. The staff aims to produce twenty editions of the Ambassador each year.

Several members of past Ambassador staffs have continued their studies of journalism. For these and all other students of the journalism class, this opportunity for polishing their literary skills is a valuable one.

Masque and Wig and Play Cast

This organization, formed in 1961, is composed of students interested in dramatics. Programs for the year include the initiation of new members, attendance at a touring Broadway play, speakers, and the production of a play. After many weeks of concentrated effort under the talented direction of Mr. Edward Fraser, a large play cast this year presented The Mouse That Roared, an evening of hilarious entertainment.

Professor, if you flirt with my housekeeper once more . . .

Go ahead, Max, nobody's looking.

Our BOMBER has settled itself in a cloud of success, but momentarily we catch a glimpse of the sports activity below. Many times the boys of our teams have provided "jet-age fuel" with which our BOMBER has soared to greater and grander heights. The outstanding coaches, in training the boys, clear the "runways" while the community provides favorable "conditions" for flight. As members of the student body, we too must do our part by cheering their "take-off".

The pride of the "Village of Champions," E.R.'s powerful varsity basketball team, swept through all of its regular season opponents en route to its second straight Monroe County Division I AA Basketball Championship and its third undefeated season in four years. The last game with Pittsford was the only close league game, but non-league encounters against Brockport, Irondequoit, Webster, and Aquinas kept the boys at their best throughout the season. The team worked hard through the long season and combined individual skills with desire in order to obtain the necessary elements for victory. With a well-balanced starting five backed up by a strong bench, the Bombers, under the talented leadership of Coach John Baynes, gained their traditional sectional berth by virtue of their 18-0 record.

Continuing in the pattern of many former J.V. basketball squads, this year's team completed a very successful season, finishing with a 14-2 record. A loss at the hands of Pittsford, in the last game of the season, was the team's only league defeat. They had beaten the Pittsford five by a solid margin earlier in the year, and so they tied for 1st place in the county Division I standings. Coach Richard Baroody deserves much credit for being able to mold these boys into a fine team and prepare them for future varsity competition.

The Freshman Basketball team, in its second season of competition, carried on the fine East Rochester tradition by winning eleven out of thirteen games and tying for first place in the league standings. Under the fine guidance of Coach Stivers, the "Baby Bombers" have gained the much-needed experience that will carry them on to great basketball success in the future.

The varsity wrestling squad, under Coach Quinn, completed a most successful year. Not only were they undefeated in matches throughout the season, but they shut out three of these opponents, a fact that shows the strong all-around team that was formed this year. Sound victories over powerful Brighton, Eastridge, and Irondequoit were further evidences of the strength of this squad.

The team participated in the Auburn Wrestling Tournament during the Christmas holidays, and Ron Kostecke, Larry DiCiantis and Mike Maxwell carried off individual honors in their respective weight classes as the team finished second. The team also placed second in the Monroe County Tournament, with Carey Corea and Larry DiCiantis finishing first. Tom McGarry, Ron Kostecke, and Joe Vergo were runners-up, and Jim Tortorici and Bob Cialini took third spots by virtue of their victories in the consolation bracket.

Special congratulations go to Mike Maxwell who went through the entire season of dual matches without suffering a defeat.

Go get him, Zane.

The swimming team, under the direction of Coach Richard Young, entered its first season of varsity competition. The boys gained much experience that will benefit them in later years. They learned that the price of victory is high and also that only through hard work will success ever come. The boys faced the season with confidence, and this confidence held through even in many defeats. The highlight of the season was a 60-35 victory over Greece Olympia. Franklin provided the only other victory in a non-league encounter. Many underclassmen have shown great potential, which is emphasized by the fact that the J.V. record was 5-6 against tough competition. Ted Spall and Ron Griffith were Co-Captains of the team, and they both went to the Sectionals at Geneseo. Also Ralph Harmon, Dave Kreyer, Bill Wegener, the Freestyle Relay and the Medley Relay teams achieved Sectional qualifying times, and John DelMonte, a freshman, qualified for the diving. As Mr. Young works with the boys, starting in the Junior High, he too will have in the very near future teams to rival all of East Rochester's other championship squads.

Neither rain nor snow nor an inconvenient practice schedule dimmed the spirit of our Varsity Cheerleaders. They enthusiastically planned pep assemblies (remember the Little Brown Jug and our "visitor" from Fairport's football team?) These are the girls who cheered the Bombers on to victory after victory and who cheered both ER's football and basketball teams on to their respective championships.

These members officiate during the girls' intramural sports program. The club forms the backbone for the girls' honor teams, many of which have been victorious over neighboring schools. Among the highlights of the club's program are its matches with faculty teams. This year the Leaders' Club volleyball team defeated a team of faculty women. At the annual picnic in the Spring, the Varsity Club challenges the men faculty members to a softball game.

This was one of the first such clubs of its kind in this area, and due to its success, many other schools have started similar organizations.

The managers of the various sports at ERHS perform many functions that are not noticed by most of the students. In addition to being responsible for the equipment and carrying out requests of both coaches and players, they must stay after practice until everyone has left, then clean up the locker room, and put away all of the equipment used that day. They also keep most of the records of their teams and do a great deal of paper work. The success of sports at our school is achieved in some part by the effectiveness of our managers.

I've heard of apples for the teacher, but this is ridiculous.

Anything is better than those crowded halls.

Never Before Has it Been so Necessary to Know How to Get a Job

Now comes the time of decision for your career ahead. It will probably be one of the most important decisions you will be called upon to make. Fortunately, you live in a land where freedom of choice and opportunity are almost unlimited.

Of course, anyone's "first job" is to get his basic education. Congratulations to you who get this job well done.

Now, how about the next step?

Career opportunities in Rochester, with its many and diverse industries, commercial organizations and professions, should interest almost any student. Most Rochester companies are recognized for their high standards and advanced technology. It follows that standards for employment are high too—and a good education tops the list.

An employer knows what kinds of people he is looking for. The student ready for a career should have an equally good idea of what he or she is looking for. Consulting with parents, counselors, friends, and with employers themselves will reveal what kinds of positions are available in what kinds of organizations.

Evaluating your abilities and appraising your readiness for the career of your choice is the key to your future. There is no door it cannot unlock—when the key fits!

Just in your lifetime

you have known great acts of violence—Korea, Hungary, Tibet, Viet Nam. And you have been aware of great acts of human kindness—the Marshall Plan, Berlin air lift, the Peace Corps.

There have been horrible inventions to kill man, like the hydrogen bomb. And marvelous inventions to save his life, like polio vaccine.

Man has flown higher and dived lower than ever before. He has traveled faster and farther.

All in your lifetime.

Advances have often been striking, and reversals tragic, but you had no part in them. You were only a spectator.

Now, you have a chance to play a responsible role in events of your generation—events that promise to overshadow anything that went before.

Unlike the modest opportunities of the past, yours will be limited only by two key factors.

One is education; the other resourcefulness—keys that together will enable you to unlock any combination; to plan, to weigh, to judge, to think.

Most of all to communicate.

Your school has tried to do its part. Now it's up to you. Growing organizations like Xerox, leaders in mankind's continuing search for better communications, are looking for educated talent—the more educated the better.

Through the science of xerography, we have made enormous strides during your lifetime. To continue, we will need educated, resourceful, imaginative people.

You, perhaps.

Good luck, graduate!
